

GALVIN GREEN

Swedish brand proves it's worth the price

It's the equivalent of a league and cup double for Galvin Green as they claimed top spot in both of these categories, and the victories do suggest that you are more interested in quality these days, even at a price. You could argue that the clothing and the waterproofs are just too expensive, but we think they represent good value for money – because they last for ages, offer unbeatable performance in a wide range of conditions and, thanks to some new and improved styling, look sensational on golfers no matter their shape or size. The voting also showed that Under Armour is gaining recognition.

BEST WATERPROOF BRAND OF THE YEAR

2 ProQuip 3 Sunderland

BEST APPAREL OF THE YEAR

2 Nike 3 Under Armour

BEST WEDGE

TITLEIST VOKEY SPIN MILLED

Bob Vokey is a legend when it comes to wedge design, and his Spin Milled stunners were good enough in your eyes to see off the challenge of Mizuno's fabulous T-11 and the widely-used PING Tour-S. One of the brilliant things about the Vokey Spin Milled wedges is that the great man designed them with input from the world's best players and if it's good enough for them, we think there's a good chance they'll work for your game.

2 Mizuno T-11
3 PING Tour-S

SHOE IN
FootJoy won more than 45 per cent of your votes to take the Best Shoe Brand crown.

BEST SHOE BRAND

FOOTJOY

Another impressive display from FootJoy in our annual survey, with TG readers confirming that the brand continues to get it right when it comes to styling, reliability and durability. More than 45% of the vote clearly indicates the dominance, although excellent performances from adidas and ECCO, who continue to go from strength to strength, shows that some golfers are looking to other brands too.

2 adidas 3 ECCO