Galvin Green develops its Multi-Layer concept

In the run-up to the 2009 golf season, Galvin Green is taking its Multi-Layer concept one step further. With a host of exciting new clothes in all areas of the Multi-Layer segment, Galvin Green is reinforcing its position as the leading manufacturer of functional clothing for the golf course.

New, advanced materials such as stretch Gore-Tex® are adding a whole new dimension to the rain clothes in the Performance Shell segment. Stretch Gore-Tex® features the same excellent breathability and waterproof properties as other Gore-Tex® material. Ashford is a new anorak made entirely from stretch Gore-Tex® Performance Shell fabric. Because the stretch material is applied in different directions on different parts of the item, players can be sure of optimal freedom of movement throughout their swing. Ashford is the best possible outer layer for golfers who accord top priority to comfort in all areas.

Akin is made of Gore-Tex® Performance Shell fabric. With its straight lines and clean-cut design, it is the natural choice for players who refuse to compromise on either appearance or function. To ensure extra durability, Akin features reinforcement patches on the shoulders, sleeves and sides, for example – perfect for players who carry their own bags.

Galvin Green is also launching its first trousers in Windstopper® Soft Shell fabric. Brant is made of a specially designed light and thin Windstopper® material that makes the trousers very soft and comfortable to wear. Brant is completely wind-proof, with a soft lining that keeps players warm in all kinds of weather. The trousers are primarily intended to be worn in autumn and spring, but thanks to their exceptional breathability Brant trousers also function perfectly in slightly warmer weather.

At the same time as reinforcing its initiative in the field of functional material in the 2009 collection,

Galvin Green is launching a line of fashionable new clothes. Soft pastel shades such as rose, crystal blue and crème are the highlights of the ladies' range, which also presents a new collection of patterns.

JETT is a short-sleeved golf shirt for men, and it features Galvin Green's newly designed pattern print. JETT has a tailored cut, finely designed collar and a range of details that are sure to make it a real favourite this summer.

For the ladies, Galvin Green is launching the exclusive AURORA rain jacket. Made of Gore-Tex® Performance Shell fabric, the jacket combines the very best elements of style and function. AURORA features a subtle pattern applied to the outer surface through embossing – a new technique for putting patterns on Gore-Tex® material. Naturally, this rain jacket provides the same high performance as other items in the Performance Shell segment. With the Galvin Green logo in gold on black on the sleeve and collar, the functionality of the jacket is the only thing that can compete with the lavish appearance.

For the 2009 collection, Galvin Green is applying the new material Coolmax® freshFX™ to all the items in the Coolmax® range. The cool, comfortable Coolmax® clothes feature peerless breathability and moisture-transportation properties. And now, the Coolmax® fibres have been injected with silver ions to prevent the build-up of bacteria. This anti-bacterial function is constantly effective throughout the life of the garment.

Galvin Green never compromises on its materials. And with this new collection, Galvin Green's Multi-Layer concept is stronger than ever.
