Emelie Lind – a shooting star on Team Galvin Green

Galvin Green continues its focus on ladies' golf – both in terms of exciting new products in the ladies' collection, and new additions to Team Galvin Green. Emelie Lind, who has just come aboard the European Tour, is the newest female member of Team Galvin Green for the 2010 season.

It was her thrilling play-off performance that qualified Emelie for the European Tour 2010. A spectacular bunker stroke straight into the cup at the 8th (!) play-off hole led to victory at Landeryd Masters 2009, and a much-coveted place on the Ladies' European Tour. "Winning such a tough competition was amazing. Now I'm looking forward to fresh, tough challenges on the European Tour."

Emelie, who has been playing professionally since 2008, tells us about her expectations for the coming season.

"Above all, I want to gain experience. I know that my game is good enough to take on many of the players on the European Tour. My short game is my biggest strength, I get good green hits and I'm working on becoming even better in this area."

Emelie is very positive about her collaboration with Galvin Green.

"I've always known that Galvin Green makes unbeatable rainwear. But, like many others, I've more recently discovered its brilliant ladies' collection. Galvin Green makes lots of nice and functional ladieswear, which is really great.

"Galvin Green is synonymous with quality. Its products are of a very high standard throughout," feels Emelie, who is hoping to be able to offer some valuable input.

"My first priority is to play well, so that I can showcase the products in the best possible way. I also hope to be able to contribute a lot by offering feedback on how the garments are used and function out on the course."
